Creation of Garland Canal

2780. SHRI O. P. KOHLI: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether the annually recurring devasting floods in different rivers of the country cause incalculable loss of life, property, cattle heads and crops, besides creating serious health hazards;

(b) whether some years ago there was a proposal to create a "Garland Canal" by interlinking all the major rivers of the country with the twin objectives of solving the flood problem as well as of channelizing water resources for human benefit; and

(c) whether Government propose to revive that proposal now and if not, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE AND MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF WATER RESOURCES (SHRI SOMPAL): (a) Floods of varying intensities occur in most of the rivers of the country every year causing loss of life, property, cattle heads and crops.

(b) Yes, Sir.

(c) The Government does not propose to revive the Garland Canal proposal. Two Committees' comprising Experts from Central Water Commission and State Governments and Professors from technical institutions examined the proposal and found it to be impractical and economically prohibitive.
